Allowable Subject Matter

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art teaches an automated banking machine having a cash acceptor mechanism for receiving a stack of notes, separating each notes from the stack, evaluating each note, and segregating suspected invalid notes from valid notes, however the prior art of record, taken alone or in combination, fail to teach or fairly suggest an automated banking machine having a cash acceptor mechanism for receiving a stack of notes, wherein the cash acceptor mechanism is movably mounted in supporting connection with a chest portion and is movable relative to an opening in the chest portion while mounted.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Siemens (US 2001/0054643) discloses a currency receiving device; and Jones et al (US 6,748,101) discloses an automatic currency processing system.
